School Bonds Are Approved

EDITORIAL*Vote For The Sewer Bonds

We are glad that Placerville has approved the school improvement bond issue.

It is to be hoped that the same progressive spirit will prevail in the community on Tuesday when the vote is taken at city hall on the proposal to build the city a sewer system and a sewage disposal plant.

Good schools and adequate sanitary facilities are essential for the growth of any community. Now we have the schools, let us vote for the sewer bonds.

We have known these many years that the improvement should be made. The estimated cost of the project is $80,000 and we are asked to vote $50,000 toward this amount, with the expectation that the balance will be supplied as a PWA grant.

This is one opportunity in years—it may be our last—to get government aid in this project, which we all know we must some day face.

Let us face it now and get a $80,000 installation for $50,000.

Vote for the sewer bonds at city hall on Tuesday!

Former Mayors Boost Bonds

In addition to the endorsements previously given the municipal sewer bonds, on which the community votes Tuesday, we have two endorsements this morning from former Mayors of the city:

The sewer bond election, is of vital interest to every property owner and resident of the City of Placerville. During my eight years on the city council this matter was given considerable study, the cost having always been estimated at the excess of $60,000 but during my term as a member of the city council, it was not felt advisable to ask the voters to pass upon the same because of the then outstanding bonds.

Now the bonded indebtedness of the city has now been reduced and with the possibility of help from outside sources it seems that it is the proper time to submit this matter to the voters, for we know that an adequate sewer system is sorely needed.

It is my understanding that under the PWA, the city has an opportunity to obtain a grant in a sum sufficient to enable it to complete this improvement, if people will vote a bond issue for $50,000 which, when added to the amount of the grant, will be sufficient for the completion of this project.

Naturally, there will be some increase in taxes resulting from this improvement which I am informed would not be great enough to cause a tax rate in excess of $1.85, which was, the tax rate for the City of Placerville a number of years ago. Naturally, there will be some cost for the care and maintenance of the disposal system. However, I believe it will be up to the city council to hold down that cost and it is my firm belief that one of the numerous employees of the city can devote his time to that work without a great increase in expense resulting from the operation of the plant.

I believe that the voters of the city should enable the city council to put the city in a position of obtaining a PWA grant, if possible, and by all means vote on this question.

(Signed) ALBERT SIMON.

During my term as city councilman and Mayor of the City of Placerville, the question of an adequate sewage disposal system for the city was constantly before the council and while I was Mayor the city council ordered the first comprehensive study of the system and instructed Harry N. Jenks to prepare for a sewage disposal system.

During all of that time I was, and am now, firmly convinced that something must soon be done to remedy the situation.

I believe the present city council has taken the proper steps in submitting the question to the voters of the city and I believe all right thinking citizens

Improvement Voted By Margin Of 298

Actual Construction May Be Started
About July 1; PWA Application
On Preferred List, Say Solons

Voters of Placerville school district at a special election on Friday gave their approval to a district bond issue in the amount of $40,000 for the enlargement of the building.

They have the assurance of the district trustees that only so much of this amount as is required under economical management, will be used.

Meanwhile the district has an application for PWA assistance in the project pending in Washington, with recent encouragement from Congressman Harry L. Englebright, and Senators William G. McAdoo and Hiram W. Johnson, in the form of reports that the application is "on the preferred list."

The vote on the bond issue was 499 in favor of the bonds and 151 against the bonds, a total of 600 votes.

Completion of the count of the votes Friday night and the announcement of the victory for school improvement was the occasion for an informal celebration at the grammar school, shouts of joyous satisfaction and tolling of the school bell from which, if they had had no previous information, residents could have assumed that the bonds had passed.

According to J. R. Johnson, secretary of the school board, it will be "two or three weeks or perhaps a month" before actual start of the construction can be made.

Meanwhile the board will canvass the vote within seven days, press anxiously for action on the PWA application, and order the architect, Jens C. Petersen, to perfect his preliminary draft of plans for the improvement.

The enlargement contemplated provides for four class-rooms, a sewing room and manual training room and a moderate sized gymnasium room.

League Opens 2nd Half

Roseville, Remember
Them? Visitors
For Sunday

When the Roseville Tigers started us off this season in the Placer-Nevada League on the short end of a 5 to 3 count, Bartlett rooters mumbled something like this:

"It may be a day and it may be a year, but someday, we'll get 'em."

Well, here's the chance. Roseville comes to Placerville Sunday to open the second round of the league schedule.

Wheatland carries a victory to Colfax, Auburn goes to Loomis to lose its second game of the schedule; and Lincoln will be "dressed in" at Folsom.

We'll pick them in that fashion and expect the Barts to trim the Tigers, too.

GRAND THEFT HEARING GOES OVER

Time for passing sentence on Orin Lindeville, Charles and Robert Cooper, who had pleaded guilty to charges of grand theft, was continued Saturday morning in Superior Court until Saturday of next week.

The young men had asked probation. They had admitted the theft of mill plates valued at $250 from a Grizzly Flat mining property and were arrested on the complaint of Elwood Morey.

W. C. R. Hoover is home from Reno for the week-end.

will endorse the proposed bond issue.

The city is growing and the need for this improvement is becoming greater every day. For these reasons, I wish to urge the voters of the City of Placerville to go to the polls Tuesday, June 1, and vote yes for the proposed $50,000 bond issue.

(Signed) J. A. RAFFETTO, Sr.

POLO HELMETS IN BASEBALL ADVOCATED

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Daily News suggested today that baseball players wear polo helmets while at bat to avoid accidents such as the one which occurred to Mickey Cochran.

"These helmets were devised to save polo players from accidents to the top and sides of the skull after several polo players had been killed," the News editorial said. "Such polo accidents stopped."

"Batters in polo helmets would look funny for about two days; after which the fans would agree that it would be the sensible thing to do and wonder why it wasn't done sooner. Any legitimate safety device for the beautiful game of baseball is all to the good."

COUNCIL ANSWERS INQUIRIES ON PROPOSED SEWER SYSTEM

Project Designed To Extend To City's Limits On East, Serving Entire Community, Trustees Declare

The city council Saturday morning issued the following statement concerning the sewer bond election to be held Tuesday:

In the last 24 hours, some reports have been circulated to the effect that the proposed new sewer mains will not extend to the easterly city limits and the city council desires to reaffirm its former statement that the plans contemplate a sewer main extending to the easterly city limits of the City of Placerville. Furthermore, the plan, if approved, by the voters and the project constructed, arrangements will be made to take care of all of the sewage water of the city so that none of Placerville's sewage waters will be dumped into the waters of Hangtown Creek.

Various members of the city council have been asked numerous questions regarding the details of installing sewer mains in Hangtown Creek and feeling that some of these questions might be of interest to the general public the council wishes to make the following explanation.

In regard to the reason for elevating the greater portion of the sewer mains on concrete piers, it was pointed out by the engineer, who designed the plan, that many of the existing sewer lines, now emptying into Hangtown Creek are at an elevation approximately at or higher than the high water mark and that if the mains were laid in the bed of Hangtown Creek, it would be necessary, in order to connect with these sewers, to either bury the connection or build some structure around the connection, leading into the mains, in order to prevent interference with or destruction of the same by debris and refuse in high water time; that either burying the extensions from these connecting sewers to the sewer mains or erecting a protecting barrier would be expensive and unsatisfactory. It was also pointed out that if the pipe were laid in the bed of the creek, considerable damage might be occasioned to the pipe itself by the high waters of Hangtown Creek in the winter time.

Another question has been, "Will Hangtown Creek be covered," and to this question the city council wishes to state that that is not a part of the sewage plan, the question of covering Hangtown Creek is entirely apart from the present plan and probably would be too expensive at this time, but should that project ever be undertaken it would not be a sewage project.

The question of whether or not all of the water of Hangtown Creek would flow through the pipes has also arisen and it is desired to point out that all of the waters of Hangtown Creek will not go through the pipes nor through the treatment plant. The city intends only to treat the actual sewage waters of the city for much of the water in Hangtown Creek is the natural flow of the creek and not sewage water. Thus, it would be a useless expense for the city to attempt to treat all of the waters of the creek and would require a plant much larger than is necessary for the treatment of the Placerville sewage waters. Consequently, only actual sewage waters of the city will go through the sewer mains and through the sewage treatment plant.

The entire project is one designed and intended for a city of from five to six thousand inhabitants and has been designed with a view to giving the city a satisfactory sewage disposal system at a minimum cost to the voters.

Respectfully,

City Council of the City of Placerville

A. N. Weber, assistant forester, returned to duties Saturday following an absence during which he underwent an operation.

Vote Tuesday On Sewer

City Hall Polling Place; Booths To Open At 6 A. M.

Since The Republican will not appear again until Tuesday afternoon, we take advantage of this opportunity to call attention to the special municipal election to be held on that day.

The question is the ratification of a municipal bond issue in the amount of $50,000 for the building of a sewer system and sewerage disposal plant. Total cost of the project is slightly less than $80,000 and it is confidently expected that an application for PWA assistance to complete the project may be approved.

In case the application should be turned down, the bonds, even if voted, would not be sold. That is a legal restriction written into the call for the bond election.

The city is made into one election precinct for the bond vote and all precincts vote at the city hall, where polls open at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and remain open until 7 o'clock in the evening.

It is hoped all citizens will go to the polls.

SCHOOL WELL IS FOULED BY ANIMALS

Whether Diamond Springs school will resume Tuesday was not known late Saturday morning.

The school trustees had received a report from the state board of health on an analysis of the water in the school well, showing that the water had been fouled by animals.

C. G. Price, a member of the school board, reported late Saturday morning that the other two members of the school board were in Sacramento and whether school could be re-opened Tuesday would not be known until their return.

The well has been condemned until cleaned and it is understood the question of reopening hinges chiefly upon the ability to provide an adequate alternative water supply.
